The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, and where applicable, sex, marital status, familial status, parental status, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, political beliefs, reprisal, or because all or part of an individual's income is derived from any public assistance program. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotope, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD). To file a complaint of discrimination, write to USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, or call (800) 795-3272 (voice) or (202) 720-6382 (TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

A research and planning resource for the food safety community

Visit the Food Safety Research Information Office (FSRIO) at <http://fsrio.nal.usda.gov> for unique food safety research tools:

- Food Safety Research Projects Database
- Research Publications from peer-reviewed journals, including articles released ahead of print
- Pending and published articles from USDA ARS National Program 108: Food Safety
- Latest reports and assessments

Food Safety Research Projects Database

With more than 8,800 projects, the Research Projects Database provides ready access to the largest searchable collection of food safety research being conducted by United States and international government agencies and private organizations.

Research project information includes title, objective, investigators, funding sources, institutions, collaborators, and if available, project reports and related publications.

Use the database to:

- Explore current research activities
- Identify research gaps
- Prevent unintended duplication
- Assess food safety research needs and priorities

Research Publications From Peer-Reviewed Journals

Easily access the latest research publications, including USDA and FDA articles released ahead of print.

Read abstracts or full-text articles grouped by journal, pathogen, agency, and ahead of print status.

Pending Publications From USDA ARS National Program 108: Food Safety

Browse a dynamic list that includes title, journal, accepted date, authors, interpretive summary, and links to related research projects.
